Health Clinic Report

The annual health clinic on March 8 was another resounding success, thanks to the work of many club members. I don't have the final results as far as profit, but Dr. Schober examined 94 hearts, Dr. Metzler and Kelley did somewhere in the neighborhood of 162 eye exams and we ended up with nearly a dozen blood draws. It was one of the smoothest clinics we have had, even though we got off to a rocky start (long story) and we saw more dogs than some other years.

Thanks once again to Rich Boucher and Refugee Canyon for hosting us and providing us with lunch and THE COOKIES. Rich actually delays his annual trip to Florida for Bike Week for a couple days to allow us to hold the clinic on our regular weekend. (and I am REALLY glad he did because we did make an attempt to trade with another club to the weekend prior when the snow storm hit!!!) Chris Bell was there all day, start to finish with me and is my absolute lifesaver with checking folks in and managing the money. Sue Frazier did her job of greeting and helping arrivals and Cindy Gerhan and Joni Palumbo switched off doing eye drops and managing the waiting room and shuffling people in and out of exam rooms and it was their skill at this that kept us on schedule. They kept people moving!! Anna and Steve Hrinko also came and helped out anywhere needed, including holding dogs, dropping eyes, and general "running". Dennis also did eye drops again. Linda Bednarski and Chris Kofron did blood draws and filled in as needed with drops and other tasks. We had more volunteers than we actually even put to work this year because Lori Bentine, Christian DiSabato, Brian Tipton, and new members Natalie Williams and Scott Ashley were there if needed.

Like our specialty, everyone pulled together to make it a success and I can't thank those who helped or volunteered to help enough. Every year we learn something new to put into practice in subsequent years. I learned this year that if we post our clinic on the OFA website, they will send us stickers for a $4.50 discount on the fee for registering the clearances with them. Chris Bell also created a receipt system, which gives those paying for exams a receipt and helps us track the exams.

Thanks again to all who volunteered!
