PREZ NOTES

"No one appreciates the very special genius of your conversation as a dog does." -Christopher Marley

I love quotes...must be the English teacher in me. I have a calendar on my desk this year with some dog related quotes on it and I have decided to include one each month in my prez notes. This one struck me as appropriate for this month because with all the snow and snow days, I have spent an inordinate amount of time by myself at home....I mean days on end. See, Dennis had the good fortune to go on what turned out to be a weeklong ski trip during the first two rounds of snow. I'm not sure which was worse...the two foot snow drifts in the kennel runs, not being able to get out if I wanted to, or trying to stay prepared for the power to go off. So, I spent a lot of time with no one to talk to but dogs and they did seem to find me a great conversationalist!! They always agree.

I can honestly say I don't remember this much snow at one time, that stayed around since I was in high school. Wow that makes me sound old. Pretty soon I'll be telling the kids at school about having to walk to school in two feet of snow...uphill....both ways. Anyhow, this much snow and cold weather sure does create a lot of work for us dog owners! (It is also creating an unpleasant rest of the school year for me...making up days!! Appears I won't have much of a life outside of school through April.)

We had the best turnout at the February meeting that we've had in a while. We had enough that we are actually considering the possibility of some speakers or activities in conjunction with future meetings. Some possibilities include another field practice/meeting; a CGC test; and a trip to a clinic that offers innovative laser technology. If members have interest in any of these or have other suggestions, please let me know.

The eye clinic is fast approaching and I am scheduling lots of appointments. I think the weather has given us some additional business because one local clinic was during the first snow storm. It looks like we will be busy. Susan is starting to nail details down for the puppy match/picnic in May. Things are starting to come together for the specialty as well. We are presently waiting for AKC approval.

Our club has been through ups and downs like any club but overall, I think we are a solid group. Within our club we have licensed AKC conformation judges, multiple members who judge sweepstakes, field test judges, members who exhibit in conformation, agility, obedience, and field, members who do therapy dog work and I am sure I am missing many things. We have a great knowledge base amongst our members, many of whom have been involved in some aspect of the breed for ten, twenty, thirty or more years. A big thanks to everyone who plays a part in making this club work.
